

Calendar No. _____

116TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSIONS. RES. 34

Expressing the sense of the Senate that the Governments of Burma and Bangladesh ensure the safe, dignified, voluntary, and sustainable return of the Rohingya refugees who have been displaced by the campaign of ethnic cleansing conducted by the Burmese military and to immediately release unjustly imprisoned journalists, Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

JANUARY 29, 2019

Mr. MERKLEY (for himself, Mr. RUBIO, Mr. DURBIN, Ms. COLLINS, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, Mr. YOUNG, Mr. CARDIN, Mr. TILLIS, Ms. WARREN, Mr. KAINE, Mr. VAN HOLLEN, Mr. BROWN, Mr. MARKEY, Mr. WYDEN, Mr. SANDERS, Mrs. MURRAY, Mr. COONS, Ms. KLOBUCHAR, Ms. CORTEZ MASTO, Mr. SCHATZ, Ms. HARRIS, Mr. PETERS, Mr. WARNER, Mr. KING, Mr. BRAUN, and Mr. CRUZ) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

_____ (legislative day, _____), _____

Reported by Mr. RISCH, with an amendment and an amendment to the preamble and an amendment to the title

[Strike out all after the resolving clause and insert the part printed in italic]

[Strike the preamble and insert the part printed in italic]

RESOLUTION

Expressing the sense of the Senate that the Governments of Burma and Bangladesh ensure the safe, dignified, voluntary, and sustainable return of the Rohingya refugees who have been displaced by the campaign of ethnic cleansing conducted by the Burmese military and to immediately release unjustly imprisoned journalists, Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo.

Whereas, on August 25, 2017, attacks on security posts in Burma by the Arakan Rohingya Salvation Army militant group resulted in a brutal, systematic, and disproportionate reprisal by the Burmese military and security forces on Rohingya villages in Rakhine State;

Whereas approximately 700,000 Rohingya refugees have fled to Bangladesh since the Burmese military commenced its scorched-earth campaign, with the burning of villages and local monuments, and reports of widespread gang rape, starvation, killing, and forcible deportation;

Whereas the August 2018 United Nations report of the Independent International Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar states in paragraph 87 that “the Mission concluded . . . that there is sufficient information to warrant the investigation and prosecution of senior officials in the Tatmadaw chain of command, so that a competent court can determine their liability for genocide in relation to the situation in Rakhine State”;

Whereas, on August 28, 2018, then-United States Ambassador to the United Nations Nikki Haley reported to the United Nations Security Council that the Department of State had conducted interviews with 1,024 Rohingya refugees in camps throughout Cox’s Bazar and that the results of the interviews were consistent with the United Nations Independent International Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar;

Whereas, on September 24, 2018, the Department of State report titled, “Documentation of Atrocities in Northern Rakhine State”, concluded that the military’s attacks in Burma’s Northern Rakhine State were “large-scale, widespread and seemingly geared toward both terrorizing the population and driving out the Rohingya residents” and that the “scope and scale of the military’s operations indicate that they were well-planned and coordinated”;

Whereas, on December 3, 2018, the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum concluded that “there is compelling evidence that the Burmese military committed ethnic cleansing, crimes against humanity, and genocide against the Rohingya”;

Whereas the Government of Burma has consistently denied access to the United Nations Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar established to investigate human rights violations around the country;

Whereas the fundamental operational principles of voluntary repatriation are safety, to include legal and physical safety, and dignity, to include treatment with respect and full acceptance by their national authorities, including the full restoration of refugees’ rights;

Whereas approximately 236,000 Rohingya refugees returned to Burma from Bangladesh under the terms of a 1992 agreement after a previous bout of violence against the Rohingya forced them to flee, only to continue to be denied citizenship, face prejudice, violence, and persecution, and in many instances be forced to live in internally displaced persons (IDP) camps with their freedom of movement restricted;

Whereas Burma’s 1982 citizenship law stripped Rohingya of their Burmese citizenship, rendering them stateless;

Whereas the Government of Burma continues to systematically discriminate against the Rohingya people, a long-persecuted Muslim minority within Burma, including by continuing to restrict registration of Rohingya births and to deny them freedom of movement, access to healthcare, land, education, marriage, voting rights, and political participation;

Whereas the Government of Burma has repeatedly abused land use laws to unjustly seize land from Rohingya refugees;

Whereas the United Nations High Commission on Refugees (UNHCR) is working closely with the Government of Bangladesh and partners to provide protection and assistance to the Rohingya refugees and to support the host populations affected by the influx;

Whereas, on November 23, 2017, the Government of Burma and the Government of Bangladesh signed an agreement, known as the “Arrangement”, on the return of displaced persons from Rakhine State, which is modeled after the 1992 repatriation agreement between Burma and Bangladesh;

Whereas the Arrangement includes references to restoring normalcy and human rights in Rakhine State, for refugee returns to comply with international standards of safety, dignity, and voluntariness, and to commencing a process to address root causes in line with the Rakhine Advisory Commission recommendations;

Whereas the Department of State has assessed that Burma has not made progress on the “more crucial” of the 88 recommendations of the Rakhine Advisory Commission that are identified by Rohingya refugees as prerequisites to repatriation including freedom of movement, civil documentation, and a transparent pathway to citizenship;

Whereas, on June 6, 2018, the Government of Burma reached a tripartite Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the UNHCR and the United Nations Development Agency (UNDP) on its role in the safe, dignified, and voluntary return of Rakhine State refugees;

Whereas Rohingya refugees currently hosted in Bangladesh demonstrated in protest against an initial November 2018 repatriation plan between the Governments of Bangladesh and Burma, citing concerns for their security and the lack of meaningful political reforms in Burma to include full citizenship;

Whereas UNHCR, on January 4, 2019, reported that conditions in Burma's Rakhine State remain "not conducive to return" on the heels of the Government of India's regrettable decision to repatriate 16,000 Rohingya to Burma without having first ascertained the "voluntariness of their decision to return";

Whereas, throughout this process, the Government of Burma has restricted media freedom and jailed journalists;

Whereas, on December 12, 2017, Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo, two journalists reporting and documenting atrocities against the Rohingya, were arrested and on January 10, 2018, formally prosecuted with violating the "Official Secrets Act";

Whereas Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Soe had uncovered a massacre of 10 Rohingya men perpetrated by Burma's security forces and aided by local Buddhist villagers in the village of Inn Din in Rakhine State;

Whereas, on September 3, 2018, Yangon northern district judge Ye Lwin ruled that Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo breached the colonial-era Official Secrets Act and sentenced them each to seven years in prison with hard labor;

Whereas, on January 11, 2019, Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo's appeal of their conviction before the Yangon Regional High Court was denied;

Whereas Time Magazine named Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo as co-recipients of 2018 Time Magazine's "Person of the Year" in recognition for their courageous reporting;

Whereas Vice President Mike Pence tweeted his concern over the sentence against Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo for "doing their job reporting on the atrocities being committed on the Rohingya people";

Whereas United States Ambassador to the United Nations Nikki Haley described the conviction as "another terrible stain on the Burmese government" and called for "their immediate and unconditional release";

Whereas the Department of State's annual Human Rights Report on Burma for the year 2017 states that—

(1) "legal provisions that allow the government to manipulate the courts for political ends, and these provisions were sometimes used to deprive citizens of due process and the right to a fair trial, particularly with regards to the freedom of expression";

(2) "The government continued to detain and arrest journalists, activists, and critics of the government and the military during the year."; and

(3) "Threats against and arrests of journalists increased. . . . Freedom of expression was more restricted during the year compared with 2016. This included a higher number of detentions of journalists using various laws, including laws carrying more severe punishments than those used previously.”;

Whereas, according to PEN America, the discontinuation of Radio Free Asia’s broadcasting in Myanmar on a domestic channel constitutes a further shrinking of the space for free expression in the country; and

Whereas, additionally, PEN America reports that—

(1) there continues to be increased legal threats, imprisonment, and physical harassment of journalists;

(2) there continues to be restrictions on the ability to report from and receive information on conflict areas; and

(3) the lack of reform of media laws and institutions is driving a decline in media freedom. Now, therefore, be it

Whereas, on August 25, 2017, attacks on security posts in Burma by the Arakan Rohingya Salvation Army militant group resulted in a brutal, systematic, and disproportionate reprisal by the Burmese military and security forces on Rohingya villages in Rakhine State;

Whereas over 740,000 Rohingya refugees have fled to Bangladesh since the Burmese military commenced its scorched-earth campaign, with the burning of villages and local landmarks, and reports of widespread gang rape, starvation, killing, and forcible deportation;

Whereas the August 2018 United Nations report of the Independent International Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar states in paragraph 87 that “the Mission concluded . . . that there is sufficient information to warrant the investigation and prosecution of senior officials in the Tatmadaw chain of command, so that a competent court can determine their liability for genocide in relation to the situation in Rakhine State”;

Whereas, on August 28, 2018, then-United States Ambassador to the United Nations Nikki Haley reported to the United Nations Security Council that the Department of State had conducted interviews with 1,024 Rohingya refugees in camps throughout Cox’s Bazar and that the results of the interviews were consistent with the United Nations Independent International Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar;

Whereas, on September 24, 2018, the Department of State report titled, “Documentation of Atrocities in Northern Rakhine State”, concluded that the military’s attacks in Burma’s Northern Rakhine State were “large-scale, widespread and seemingly geared toward both terrorizing the population and driving out the Rohingya residents” and that the “scope and scale of the military’s operations indicate that they were well-planned and coordinated”;

Whereas, on December 3, 2018, the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum concluded that “there is compelling evidence that the Burmese military committed ethnic cleansing, crimes against humanity, and genocide against the Rohingya”;

Whereas the May 2019 Amnesty International report on war crimes in Rakhine State, outlines continued human rights violations, including “indiscriminate attacks” on civilians, and expresses alarm about the impact of continued fighting on the food security of Rakhine State;

Whereas, on May 14, 2019, the United Nations International Fact Finding Mission on Myanmar urged the international community to cut off all financial aid and other support to the Burmese military;

Whereas the Government of Burma has consistently denied access to the United Nations Fact-Finding Mission on Myanmar established to investigate human rights violations around the country;

Whereas the fundamental operational principles of voluntary repatriation are safety, to include legal and physical safety, and dignity, to include treatment with respect and full acceptance by their national authorities, including the full restoration of refugees' rights;

Whereas approximately 236,000 Rohingya refugees returned to Burma from Bangladesh under the terms of a 1992 agreement after a previous bout of violence against the Rohingya forced them to flee, only to face continued denial of citizenship, prejudice, violence, and persecution, and in many instances forced to live in internally displaced persons (IDP) camps with their freedom of movement restricted;

Whereas Burma's 1982 citizenship law stripped Rohingya of their Burmese citizenship, rendering them stateless;

Whereas the Government of Burma continues to systematically discriminate against the Rohingya people, a long-persecuted Muslim minority within Burma, including by continuing to restrict registration of Rohingya births and to deny them freedom of movement as well as access to healthcare, land, education, marriage, voting rights, and political participation;

Whereas the Government of Burma has repeatedly abused land use laws to unjustly seize land from Rohingya refugees;

Whereas the United Nations High Commission on Refugees (UNHCR) is working closely with the Government of Bangladesh and partners to provide protection and assistance to the Rohingya refugees and to support the host populations affected by the influx;

Whereas, on November 23, 2017, the Government of Burma and the Government of Bangladesh signed an agreement, known as the “Arrangement”, on the return of displaced persons from Rakhine State, which is modeled after the 1992 repatriation agreement between Burma and Bangladesh;

Whereas the Arrangement includes references to restoring normalcy and human rights in Rakhine State, ensuring refugee returns comply with international standards of safety, dignity, and voluntariness, and commencing a process to address root causes in line with the Rakhine Advisory Commission recommendations;

Whereas the Department of State assesses that Burma has not made progress on the “more crucial” of the 88 recommendations of the Rakhine Advisory Commission identified by Rohingya refugees as prerequisites to repatriation, including freedom of movement, provision of civil documentation, and a transparent pathway to citizenship;

Whereas, on June 6, 2018, the Government of Burma reached a tripartite Memorandum of Understanding with the UNHCR and the United Nations Development Agency to promote the safe, dignified, and voluntary return of Rakhine State refugees, which was extended one additional year to June 6, 2020;

Whereas Rohingya refugees currently hosted in Bangladesh demonstrated in protest against an initial November 2018

repatriation plan between the Governments of Bangladesh and Burma, citing concerns for their security and the lack of meaningful political reforms in Burma to include extension of full citizenship;

Whereas UNHCR, on January 4, 2019, reported that conditions in Burma's Rakhine State remain "not conducive to return" on the heels of the Government of India's regrettable decision to repatriate Rohingya to Burma without having first ascertained the "voluntariness of their decision to return";

Whereas, throughout this process, the Government of Burma has restricted media freedom and jailed journalists;

Whereas, on December 12, 2017, Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo, two journalists reporting and documenting atrocities against the Rohingya, were arrested and on January 10, 2018, formally charged with violating the "Official Secrets Act";

Whereas Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Soo had uncovered a massacre of 10 Rohingya men perpetrated by Burma's security forces and aided by local Buddhist villagers in the village of Inn Din in Rakhine State;

Whereas, on September 3, 2018, Yangon northern district judge Ye Lwin ruled that Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo breached the colonial-era Official Secrets Act and sentenced them each to seven years in prison with hard labor;

Whereas Time Magazine named Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo as co-recipients of 2018 Time Magazine's "Person of the Year" in recognition for their courageous reporting;

Whereas the release of Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo on May 7, 2019, concluded over 500 days of imprisonment, more than twice the amount of time served by the soldiers deemed responsible for the massacre uncovered by their reporting;

Whereas, despite the pardon of Wa Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo, the Department of State’s 2018 annual human rights report on Burma found continued and widespread restrictions on journalistic activity and other forms of freedom of expression, stating that—

(1) “[T]he government appeared to manipulate the courts for political ends and sometimes deprived citizens of due process and the right to a fair trial, particularly regarding the freedom of expression.”;

(2) “The government continued to detain and arrest journalists, activists, and critics of the government and the military.”; and

(3) “Threats against and arrests of journalists continued during the year . . . Authorities arrested, detained, convicted, intimidated, and imprisoned citizens for expressing political opinions critical of the government and the military, generally under the charges of defamation, protesting without a permit, or violating national security laws. This included the detentions and trials of journalists and other figures, applying laws carrying more severe punishments than those used previously.”;

Whereas, according to PEN America press release dated June 13, 2018, “The discontinuation of Radio Free Asia’s broadcasting in Burma on a domestic channel constitutes a further shrinking of the space for free expression in the country”; and

Whereas, additionally, PEN America reports—

(1) increased legal threats, imprisonment, and physical harassment of journalists;

(2) restrictions on the ability to report from and receive information on conflict areas; and

(3) lack of reform of media laws and institutions that is driving a decline in media freedom: Now, therefore, be it

1 Resolved, That the Senate—

2 (1) condemns the violence and displacement in-
3 flicted on Burma's Rohingya and other ethnic mi-
4 norities;

5 (2) urges the Secretary of State to make a de-
6 termination whether the actions by the Myanmar
7 military constitute crimes against humanity or geno-
8 cide and to work with interagency partners to im-
9 pose targeted sanctions on Myanmar military offi-
10 cials, to include Senior General Min Aung Hlaing, 11 responsible for these heinous acts through existing 12 authorities;

13 (3) condemns the attacks by the Arakan
14 Rohingya Salvation Army militant group;

15 (4) calls on the Government of Burma to allow
16 full access to Rakhine State and ensure the full par-
17 ticipation of UNHCR, the internationally endorsed
18 organization tasked with ensuring that refugee re-
19 turns are voluntary, safe, dignified, and meet inter-
20 national refugee and human rights standards, and 21 that the voices of refugees are represented in order

1 to ensure the sustainability of such returns and to 2 prevent further waves of displacement;

3 (5) commends the positive role of the Govern-
4 ment of Bangladesh in receiving Rohingya refugees
5 to date and urges the Government of Bangladesh to 6 continue allowing the full participation of UNHCR
7 and human rights organization in accessing refugee
8 camps;

9 (6) calls on UNHCR and international non-
10 governmental organizations to continue to play a
11 role in monitoring repatriation efforts by the Gov-
12 ernments of Bangladesh and Burma to ensure a
13 process that meets international norms for vol-
14 untary, safe, and dignified repatriation;

15 (7) agrees that any return of Rohingya should 16 include guarantees that any returns of refugees will 17 be voluntary and dignified, that there will be no
18 threats to protection or security upon return, that 19 refugees will be able to return to their places of ori-
20 gin or other locations as desired, and be able to 21 enjoy equal rights with others in Burma, including
22 the restoration or granting of full citizenship, free-
23 dom of movement, and access to basic services;

24 (8) recognizes that any forced relocation of
25 Rohingya refugees into temporary settlements, IDP

1 camps, “model villages”, or other areas not of refu-
2 gees’ choosing is unacceptable;

3 (9) calls on the Government of Burma to allow
4 for a flexible and practical approach to dealing with 5 evidence of Rohingya residence in Burma, recog-
6 nizing that the Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh
7 possess a wide range of documents and that some 8 refugees have no documents and will need to estab-
9 lish their residence by other means;

10 (10) calls on the Government of Burma to ad-
11 dress root causes consistent with the Rakhine Advi-
12 sory Commission recommendations and fully imple-
13 ment all of the recommendations of the Commission,
14 including providing equal access to full restoration
15 or granting of full citizenship for the Rohingya pop-
16 ulation;

17 (11) calls on the Government of Burma to ac-
18 knowledge and address the issue of statelessness for 19 the Rohingya, the deprivation of rights, and institu-
20 tionalized and pervasive discrimination of the 21 Rohingya population in order to bring about any 22 sustainable solutions;

23 (12) commends the Government and the people
24 of Bangladesh for their extraordinary generosity and 25 efforts to provide shelter and relief for nearly

1 1,000,000 Rohingya refugees forced to flee their
2 homes in Burma;

3 (13) calls on the Government of Bangladesh to
4 ensure all refugees have freedom of movement and
5 under no circumstances are subject to unsafe, invol-
6 untary, precipitous, or uninformed returns to 7 Burma;

8 (14) calls for all the convictions against Wa
9 Lone and Kyaw Soe Oo to be nullified, for the simi-
10 lar charges against many other journalists currently 11 awaiting trial to be dropped, and for the immediate 12 and unconditional release of these journalists;

13 (15) expresses concern about the Government
14 of Myanmar's crackdown on journalists and press
15 freedom throughout the country;

16 (16) reaffirms the central role that independent
17 and professional journalism plays in strengthening
18 democratic governance, upholding the rule of law,
19 mitigating conflict, and informing public opinion
20 around the world; and

21 (17) calls upon the United States Government
22 to continue the United States status as a top global 23 donor nation to the humanitarian response in 24 Burma and Bangladesh and for the President's fis-

1 ~~cal year 2020 budget request to reflect that long-~~
2 ~~standing United States commitment.~~

3 That the Senate—

4 (1) condemns the violence and displacement in-
5 flicted on Burma's Rohingya and other ethnic mi-
6 norities;

7 (2) urges the Secretary of State—

8 (A) to make a determination of whether the 9 actions by the Burmese military, including Sen-
10 ior General Min Aung Hlaing, Vice-Senior Gen-
11 eral Soe Win, Brigadier-General Aung Aung,
12 and Brigadier-General Than Oo, constitute gross
13 violations of human rights, war crimes, crimes
14 against humanity (including sexual or gender- 15 based violence), or genocide; and

16 (B) to work with interagency partners to 17 impose targeted sanctions through existing au-
18 thorities, including under the Global Magnitsky
19 Human Rights Accountability Act (subtitle F of 20 title XII of Public Law 114–328; 22 U.S.C. 2656
21 note) and Executive Order 13818 (50 U.S.C.
22 1701 note; relating to blocking the property of 23 persons involved in serious human rights abuse
24 or corruption), on Burmese military officials
25 that have knowingly played a direct and signifi-

1 cant role in the commission of acts that con-
2 stitute gross violations of human rights, war
3 crimes, crimes against humanity (including sex-
4 ual or gender-based violence), or genocide;

5 (3) condemns the attacks by the Arakan
6 Rohingya Salvation Army militant group;

7 (4) expresses support for potential accountability
8 mechanisms for Burma, including an ad hoc tri-
9 bunal, in consultation with the Rohingya community;

10 (5) calls on the Government of Burma to allow
11 full access to Rakhine State and ensure the full par-
12 ticipation of UNHCR, the internationally-endorsed
13 organization tasked with ensuring that refugee re-
14 turns are voluntary, safe, dignified, and meet inter-
15 national refugee and human rights standards, and 16 that the voices of refugees are represented to ensure 17 the sustainability of such returns and prevent further
18 waves of displacement;

19 (6) commends the positive role to date of the 20 Government of Bangladesh in receiving nearly 21 1,000,000 Rohingya refugees and urges the Govern-
22 ment of Bangladesh to continue allowing the full par-
23 ticipation of UNHCR and human rights organization
24 in accessing refugee camps;

1 (7) calls on UNHCR and international non-
2 governmental organizations to continue their impor-
3 tant roles in monitoring repatriation efforts by the 4 Governments of Bangladesh and Burma to ensure a
5 process that meets international norms for voluntary,
6 safe, and dignified repatriation;

7 (8) agrees that any agreement on repatriation of 8 Rohingya should include guarantees that any returns
9 will be voluntary and dignified, that there will be no
10 threats to protection or security upon return, that ref-
11 ugees will be able to return to their places of origin
12 or other locations as desired, and be able to enjoy
13 equal rights with others in Burma, including the res-
14 toration or granting of full citizenship, freedom of 15 movement, and access to basic services;

16 (9) recognizes that any forced relocation of
17 Rohingya refugees into temporary settlements, IDP
18 camps, or “model villages” is unacceptable;

19 (10) calls on the Government of Burma to allow
20 for a flexible and practical approach to dealing with 21 evidence of Rohingya residence in Burma, recognizing 22 both that Rohingya refugees in Bangladesh possess a
23 wide range of documents and that some refugees have 24 no documents and will need to establish their resi-
25 dence by other means;

1 (11) calls on the Government of Burma to ad-
2 dress root causes consistent with the Rakhine Advi-
3 sory Commission recommendations and fully imple-
4 ment all of the recommendations of the Commission,
5 including providing for the restoration or granting of 6 full citizenship to the Rohingya population;

7 (12) calls on the Government of Burma to ac-
8 knowledge, address, and implement sustainable solu-
9 tions regarding statelessness for Rohingya, the depri-
10 vation of rights, and institutionalized and pervasive
11 discrimination against the Rohingya population;

12 (13) calls on the Government of Bangladesh to 13 ensure all refugees have freedom of movement and 14 under no circumstances be subjected to unsafe, invol-
15 untary, precipitous, or uninformed returns to Burma;

16 (14) calls on international organizations and the 17 Government of Bangladesh to ensure access for 18 Rohingya to basic services, education, and livelihood
19 opportunities;

20 (15) welcomes the release of Wa Lone and Kyaw
21 Soe Oo;

22 (16) calls for similar charges against other jour-
23 nalists currently awaiting trial to be dropped, and 24 for the immediate and unconditional release of these 25 journalists;

1 (17) expresses concern about the Government of
2 Burma's crackdown on journalists and press freedom
3 throughout the country;

4 (18) reaffirms the central role that independent
5 and professional journalism plays in strengthening
6 democratic governance, upholding the rule of law,
7 mitigating conflict, and informing public opinion
8 around the world;

9 (19) calls upon the United States Government to 10 ensure the United States continues to be a top global 11 donor nation to the humanitarian response in Burma
12 and Bangladesh, and for the fiscal year 2020 appro-
13 priation for State, Foreign Operations, and Related
14 Programs to reflect that longstanding United States
15 commitment;

16 (20) calls on the United States Government to 17 develop a more robust diplomatic strategy to engage 18 regional partners, including the Association for 19 Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), to press the Gov-
20 ernment of Burma to—

21 (A) improve humanitarian access in 22 Rakhine state;

23 (B) discourage involuntary returns of 24 Rohingya refugees back to Burma; and

1 (C) ensure perpetrators of attacks against
2 the Rohingya population in 2016 and 2017 are 3 held accountable;

4 (21) calls on the United States to regularly sup-
5 port the funding and resourcing of the United Na-
6 tions Independent Investigative Mechanism for 7 Myanmar; and

8 (22) calls on social media companies, including 9 Facebook, to take greater steps to mitigate the risks of 10 their platforms being used for the promotion of vio-
11 lence and discrimination against Rohingya and other
12 ethnic minorities in Burma.

Amend the title so as to read: “A resolution expressing the sense of the Senate that the Governments of Burma and Bangladesh ensure the safe, dignified, voluntary, and sustainable return of the Rohingya refugees who have been displaced by the campaign of ethnic cleansing conducted by the Burmese military.”.